Hicks Is Ruled Sane

Dewey Hicks, right, sits in silence seconds after a 47th District court jury found him sane now and sane at the time of the shooting of Joseph R. Damron and Joseph William Damron. Seated at left is Hicks' attorney, George McCarthy of Amarillo. In the background are two of the jurors who in effect ruled that Hicks must stand trial for murder.

McCarthy Mum On Change Of Venue

BY TROY MARTIN
Dewey Hicks was found sane Tuesday by a 47th District Court jury which deliberated only 40 minutes.

The jury said Hicks is sane now and was sane at the time Joseph Richard Damron, 73, and his son Joseph William Damron, 44, were shot to death at their South Amarillo home early on the morning of Jan. 1.

Hicks must stand trial for murder, probably in October. Defense Attorney George McCarthy declined to discuss his position on a change of venue. "I don't know what I'm going to do yet," he declared.

The entire proceedings was televised live by KFED of Amarillo. McCarthy said he believes television had some effect on both the witnesses and the jury.

Testimony in the case opened at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon before an all-male jury in spite of the fact that several women were summoned.

The defense spent Monday afternoon and most of Tuesday morning parading more than a half dozen witnesses purporting Dewey Hicks to have been a raving maniac, dangerous to his own daughter, in the hours just before the slayings. McCarthy, accepted in most circles as one of the state's luminaries in the practice of criminal law, sought through testimony to paint a backdrop of worry and mental unrest on the part of the defendant over a two-year period.

Testimony of Hicks' daughter, Mrs. Carol Gilley, 19 years old, Mrs. Hicks and a neighbor tended to put the reputation of Mrs. Hicks in question as cause for the disturbed condition of the defendant's mind.

Mrs. Hicks testified that she had met with Joseph William Damron on numerous occasions in spite of her husband's disapproval. She testified that her husband took to drink after 14 years of abstinence and in spite of being a diabetic after she began keeping company with the younger Damron.

The defense attorney through witnesses attempted to prove that Hicks had undergone harassment from the younger Damron over a period of several months. Witnesses testified that telephoned harassment reached a peak on the night of New Year's Eve.

There was testimony that he-

State's Top ASCS Man Says Program Needed

Wheat at $2 a bushel with a yes vote or $1 wheat with a no vote was the picture painted for Randall County wheatfarmers at a wheat referendum held here Tuesday night.

Principal speaker for the occasion was W. Lewis David, Texas executive director of the state ASCS office located at College Station.

David predicted a heavy vote in the referendum to be held May 21. He noted that producers with less than 15 acres of wheat couldn't vote last year but will be eligible this year.

"You are going to have 400 to 500 vote this year where 20 voted last year," he declared.

David said price supports make government controls mandatory. "You can't have your cake and eat it too," he asserted.

"I don't like government programs," he said. He went on to say that in his opinion a program is necessary.

"Farmers would like to have a voluntary program," he asserted, "but that won't work. Our only excuse is that we don't know what else to do. So far farmers have been unable to organize. We can just cover ourselves up with any commodity."

David said the consumption of wheat per capita is decreasing as the standard of living increases.

David advised his listeners to talk over the proposed wheat program with their banker, their wives and other advisors and then vote May 21.

Vern Edwards, chairman of the state referendum committee for ASCS, went through a flip chart explanation of the program proposed. Farmers may obtain complete details as applied to individual farms by contacting Randall County ASCS office.

Visiting ASCS dignitaries and special guests attended a supper meeting at the Junior Livestock Building before the regular program at Canyon High School.

Master of ceremonies was Art Bralley, member of the state wheat referendum committee and vice-president of the American National Bank in Amarillo.

Road Action Is Delayed

Randall County Commissioners' Court voted to accept Plains Chevrolet's of Amarillo low bid for a 1963 Chevrolet sedan for the sheriff's department Monday afternoon.

The commission also heard a request to pave one mile of rural road in precinct 4 but delayed action. The court did move to advertise for bids for the paving of approximately 4 miles of road in precinct 1.

A jury of views, headed by Hosea Foster, submitted a written report to the court concerning the opening of the E. E. Plank Road in the county.

Foster told the court, "It's our considered opinion there's not any reason for the road." The road had been proposed to improve the school bus routes, proponents claiming it would lessen school bus mileage in the county by 2000 miles per year.

Foster and his group told the court it would require a minimum of $34,950 in damages to property owners to put the road through since numerous irrigation wells and equipment, a natural gas pipe line

Hicks. . .

fore that time several threats were made on the life of Hicks by Damron and that several such threats were made by telephone the night prior to the shooting.

There was testimony by Mrs. Hicks and Carol Gilley that Hicks had taken an insulin shot a short time before the Damrons were slain. She said he left the Hicks home 14 blocks from the Damron residence a short time after taking the insulin.

The defendant's physician, Dr. Gerald Johnson of Amarillo, as a defense witness, said Hicks is subject to insulin shock. He said that on an occasion when he saw Hicks in such a condition he was incoherent, out of his mind and a victim of amnesia unable to remember. After raising his blood sugar he was back to lucidity.

The physician testified that in such a state of shock Hicks might be unable to determine right from wrong.

A bottle of sweetened orange juice in the Hicks refrigerator was a focal point of the hearing. The defense purported to show through the testimony of Mrs. Hicks that such a bottle existed and that she found it empty on a kitchen table after Hicks returned from the shooting and was escorted away by officers.

The impression was left that Hicks drank the sweetened orange juice, thereby raising his blood sugar and returning to normal.

McCarthy placed Howard Boxwell, Amarillo businessman, on the stand in a go for broke effort to prove that Hicks is sane now. Boxwell testified that he believes from the recent dealings with Hicks that the defendant is now sane.

If the defense had been successful in proving Hicks insane at the time of the shootings and sane now, he could have walked out the door a free man.

Lonnie Bailey, a Potter County deputy sheriff who sped to the Hicks home after the shooting, an incoherent, irrational manner. This was contradicted by state's witness Frank Gilley, Randall County deputy who observed Hicks and Bailey through a window at the Hicks' home.

McCarthy opened and closed arguments before the jury since the burden of proof was on the defendant in the sanity hearing. Hull emphasized in his summation that the jury must depend entirely on the credibility of witnesses involved.

Hull hit hard at the credibility of several witnesses, including Deputy Bailey.

He noted that the friendliness between the defendant and Damron as evidenced by their get-together at the Hicks home July 4, 1962 and their breakfasting together at the Hicks home Dec. 15 "hardly bespeaks great concern by Hicks."

He alluded to testimony by Mrs. J. R. Damron that she heard only one telephone conversation by her son, Joe, the night of the shooting. He reminded the jury that Mrs. Damron had testified that she had seen her son asleep at the Damron home shortly after midnight and again some time later--at the time when Hicks was purported to have been in a rage over abusive and threatening calls by Damron.

Then Hull—who obviously had done his homework and was well versed about diabetes, insulin, insulin shock and amnesia—launched into the discussion of medical testimony. He noted that Hicks was purported to have been a victim of amnesia.

"Yet," he said "He asked Deputy Bailey three or four times, 'How are they?' He was lucid at the police station."

The case went to the jury at 2:50 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The verdict was returned at 3:30 o'clock.

Hicks accepted the verdict in silence. His wife and daughter, who were seated in the court room, showed no emotion. The three left the court house together.

Following is a witness by witness summary of testimony.

CHARLES MASON WALKER, Amarillo contractor; on Direct Examination Walker testified that he knew Joe Damron from 1946 until the time of his death.

He told of having seen Damron in a bar in November of 1960 accompanied by two teenage girls. He said the girls went to the restroom and Damron struck up a conversation with Walker.

Walker said he was talking with a Sonny Miller about a deer hunting trip with Dewey Hicks. The witness quoted Damron as having said, "You go deer hunting and I'll take care of things at home."

Walker said he ignored the comment only to have Damron make further comment about Hicks' wife.

Walker said he rebuked Damron. "I said it's one thing to have an affair with a woman and it's another thing to brag about it."

Walker said Damron frequently loaned money to Walker's employees. On one occasion, he testified, Damron came to him trying to contact an employee who purportedly owed him some money.

"Joe said he wanted to take a little ride," Walker declared. "I didn't have anything to do so I went along with him."

He quoted Damron as having said, "I want to go and see a lady a few minutes." Walker said he drove over to Olson Park. Walker said he asked where Damron was going.

"This is where old Dewey lives," he said Damron replied. Walker testified that Damron produced a gun.

"I said 'What in the hell are you planning on doing?'" Walker said he asked Damron in alarm.

"Use it if I have to," he quoted Damron as having replied.

Walker said he begged Damron to leave the place and threatened to get out himself and walk away.

"I've been looking for an excuse to kill that bastard," Damron was quoted as having said. "He'll kill you," Walker said he told Damron.

"He's all blow," Damron is purported to have replied. Walker said he called Hicks the next afternoon and warned him that Damron was looking for him to kill him.

Walker testified of having heard Damron brag that he could get any man in Amarillo killed for $1,000 and that it would cost only $300 to get Dewey Hicks killed.

Walker testified that the younger Damron stole a truck, tractor and trailer from him about 17 months ago. It was brought out that the alleged theft was connected with a repossession involving a third party.

Walker said Damron was jailed at Amarillo on his complaint. Walker said he told officers he did not want to prefer charges.

"He (Damron) called me an S.O.B. and said 'I'll be out whether you prefer charges or not and kill you or have it done before night.'"

Walker testified that he had seen Hicks on occasion when he was not rational, presumably due to his diabetic condition.

On cross examination by the district attorney, the witness said he had done business with Hicks and was friendly with him but was not friendly with Damron. He said he didn't tell Hicks about his wife because of the delicacy of the subject.

Walker also testified that he carried a shotgun in his car following the alleged threat by Damron.

ELWOOD CHRISTIAN, Denver, Colo., manager of an estate; On direct examination by defense attorney George McCarthy, said he met the younger Damron in December of 1961 at the home of Bill Dean in Amarillo. He said he went to Bill Dean, who he had met at a race track, looking for some information on a man who owed the estate $20,000.

He said a man named Lloyd Matthews and a man identified as Ernie were present. Christian said he believes Ernie's name was Hernandez, but was never definite.

Christian, an elderly appearing man, said Damron came in with a bottle and offered drinks all around. Christian said that somewhere in the conversation it came out that Damron had on some occasion been forced to flee down the street in his underwear. Subsequent testimony never developed just when this flight sans pants took place.

"He (Damron) said he was going to have to get someone to kill that Dewey Hicks," Christian declared.

Christian said Damron offered Ernie $500 to kill Hicks but Christian said he saw no money transferred.

Christian said that on the following Friday he, Matthews and Ernie were leaving Amarillo for Denver and Ernie wanted to stop at the edge of town and make a telephone call.

Christian said Ernie told someone he was going to sell out to the highest bidder and set a price of $1500 to $2000.

On cross examination Christian said he paid little attention at the time because he thought it was a lot of "hot air."

JOE B. BARNARD, 4906 Erick, motel man and Hicks' neighbor; On direct examination said he had known the Hicks family on a social and business basis since 1946.

He said he saw Joe Damron only once.

Barnard told of Hicks having come to the Barnard home in June of 1962. Dewey was on foot and wanted Barnard to help him find Ruth (Mrs. Hicks). Barnard and Hicks got into Barnard's car.

Barnard said they met Dewey's car with Damron at the wheel and Mrs. Hicks beside him.

"Dewey went into a rage," Barnard testified, "Dewey said 'wreck it, I didn't.'"

Barnard said he and Hicks followed the couple into the alley behind the Shamrock lounge.

"Joe saw Dewey," Barnard went on. "He started running with Dewey behind him. There was a lot of screaming. I wanted to get out of there. It was a one-way alley."

Barnard said Dewey threw Mrs. Hicks into the Hicks car and left. "I followed them," he said.

Barnard said Hicks treated his wife "pretty rough and slapped her around." He said Hicks drove "all over the road" on the return trip home.

Barnard also told of visiting in the Hicks home last New Year's Eve. He said he was there from about dark to 9 or 9:30. He said that he, his wife, Mrs. Hicks and the Hicks' daughter, Mrs. Carol Gilley had a glass of champagne each but Hicks did not partake.

Barnard said that at about 11 o'clock that night Mrs. Hicks and Carol came to his house wanting to spend the night. They said Dewey was in a rage.

They were shown to a guest bedroom. The Barnard phone rang several times and Barnard put a pillow over it. Barnard went to sleep. The next thing Barnard knew the police were knocking at his door wanting Carol.

He said he went to the bedroom. Carol was there but Mrs. Hicks was not.

On cross examination by the district attorney, it was developed that Hicks has frequently been indebted to the Barnards, who also operate a tile company. Barnard testified that such indebtedness was a part of the consideration in the purchase of Hicks' lumber yard a short time ago.

B. T. MOSLEY, Amarillo, retired railroadman; Mosley testified that he had known Joe Damron since 1929. He said that on occasion Damron "threatened to beat hell out of me every time he saw me."

LONNIE BAILEY, Potter County deputy sheriff; On direct examination Bailey said he had known Hicks about 4 1/2 years and met him at a cafe about two years ago and discussed Hicks' trouble with Damron.

He said Hicks complained of harassing phone calls from Damron and said that Damron had threatened his life.

Bailey said he patrolled the area around the Hicks' home to protect Hicks from Damron. He said Hicks told him that Damron had offered a Mexican a price to kill him (Hicks). Hicks, a gun collector, bought a new shotgun about that time. "Joe didn't like me," declared Bailey. "He wouldn't talk to me."

Bailey then told of his own role the night of the shooting. He said he was patrolling and accompanied by another deputy and two civilians when he received a call about trouble at 3316 Kingston Road.

He said he went to the address (in Randall County) and found several city officers already there.

"We received a call that Dewey was enroute to Damron's and we started to intercept," (See HICKS, Page 3) and pasturage were in direct line of the proposed right of way.

The decision to go ahead or halt the proposed road was delayed until a later date.

Amarillo developer Kenneth Casey appeared before the court requesting the county to grade some two miles of roads through his development on the north 1/2 section 38 of Block 9 in south Amarillo. Casey offered to extend road right of way easements to the county for future paved roads if they would do the grading in his development. He also offered to help the county with the cost of the grading. The commissioners postponed action on the request.

Bailey declared, "Before we arrived we heard there'd been a shooting."

Bailey said these events took place about 3 o'clock the morning of Jan. 1, 1963.

Bailey said he went to the Hicks home.

"I went in because I knew Dewey wanted no trouble," Bailey said.

He testified that he was at the Hicks home about 15 minutes and that Hicks was shirtless and incoherent. He said Hicks calmed down after a bit and asked, "How are they?"

He said Hicks three times asked, "What happened?"

"We walked from the kitchen to a back bedroom," Bailey continued. "He put on a shirt."

Bailey said some other officers, including Randall County Deputy Frank Gilley (no relation to Carol Gilley) walked in the front door of the Hicks home.

Bailey testified that Hicks was not intoxicated.

On cross examination, Hull asked Bailey if he had ever warned Damron that he might be in danger from Hicks. The deputy replied in the negative.

It was brought out that Bailey had known Damron most of his life and had worked with him on the railroad.

Hull asked why Bailey patrolled about the Hicks home and offered no protection to Damron, Bailey replied that Damron did not live in Potter County.

Asked why he patrolled the Hicks home, Bailey replied, "He told me of threats he'd received and said he needed help."

Bailey said that after talking to Hicks he was convinced that Hicks would not carry out threats made against Damron.

Hull then probed events at the Hicks home after Bailey's arrival following the shooting.

"Did he (Hicks) know right from wrong of the act with which he's charged?" Hull interrogated.

Bailey hesitated and finally answered: "I'd say the first 8 or 10 minutes, no. That's my belief."

It also was brought in cross examination that Bailey and Hicks had been friends and that Hicks had made Bailey presents of guns.

MRS. CAROL GILLEY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Hicks; Mrs. Gilley told of going out to eat with her parents the evening of Dec. 31.

She told of the Barnards' visit and said her parents left for about 30 minutes after the Barnards went home.

She was alone in the Hicks home. She told of receiving several telephone calls from someone whose voice she recognized as that of Joe Damron. The calls were for her father.

She said Hicks returned about 9:45 o'clock and Damron continued calling.

"He would cuss at him," said Carol, who testified she was on an extension phone and heard some of the conversations.

"My daddy got real mad," Carol declared. "He threatened my daddy and said he was going to take my mother away from my daddy. He said he would send four or five tough guys over to kill my daddy. My daddy was real upset. He threw the phone down and that's when he hit my mother with a gun and broke her arm. We went over to Barnards."

"My mother went back home first. I was worried about her and I went back. About 10 o'clock daddy got some more calls. He was raving. He didn't even recognize me. I stayed there until about 2:30. He got about 10 phone calls. I heard a few. Joe said he was coming to get my mother. My daddy said that if he wanted her to come on and get her. I left again about 2:30."

Mrs. Gilley told of seeing her father take an insulin injection about 2 o'clock. She said she had seen her father drunk several times and he was not drunk at this time.

"I never saw him like that before," she declared. "He didn't know what he was doing at all."

It was brought out that Mrs. Gilley is 19 years old, will be 20 in June, is married, separated and has a young child.

Mrs. Gilley testified about an altercation at the Shamrock Lounge in June of last year.

She said she and her date took her father there to get her mother. She said her father was "slapping" her mother out the door of the lounge with Joe Damron right behind them.

"He yelled at two Mexicans to go get my daddy," said Mrs. Gilley. "My daddy told me to get that club. He didn't have one but the Mexicans ran."

"He put my mother in the car and drove home."

It was developed that this altercation took place earlier on the same evening that Barnard drove Hicks to the lounge to fetch Mrs. Hicks.

On cross examination by Hull, Mrs. Gilley testified that she filed a complaint against her father and had him jailed. "He'd been drinking," she explained. "He had a broken arm and I was afraid he'd hurt it."

That was in February, Mrs. Gilley denied ever having had a date with Joe Damron.

On re-direct by McCarthy, Mrs. Gilley said she saw Damron in the Hicks home July 4, 1962. "I don't know why he was there," she said. "Daddy was mad at him."

"He had two other men and a woman with him. Joe said he would kill my daddy. My daddy gave Joe a gun and said 'Pull the trigger.' Joe threw the gun down."

MRS. RUTH HICKS: On direct examination Mrs. Hicks testified that she and Dewey have been married for 23 years. The family home is in fashionable Olson Park in Amarillo.

They knew each other as teen-agers. She likewise knew Joe Damron before her marriage and said she dated him for about six months.

She said she didn't see Damron after her marriage until December of 1961 when he called one day and asked her to meet him.

She agreed and they went to a lounge. She said they met "four or five" times after that. She said she was in the Shamrock lounge with Damron in June of 1962 when Dewey came in.

"Dewey was irritated," she said. "He slapped me around a little and told me to get out of there."

She corroborated her daughter's story about the Mexicans and the club.

She said Damron called later the same night to say they'd left a car at the lounge following the earlier fracas. She agreed to return to the lounge with him.

As they pulled up behind the lounge, she said, Hicks ran up to the car. Damron jumped out and fled.

Something like a month later Damron was a guest in the Hicks home. "He had a girl he wanted us to meet," Mrs. Hicks testified. "Another couple showed up and another fellow."

She said Joe was indignant and kept needing Dewey. "Dewey got upset," she declared.

"He told Dewey he would kill him. Dewey pitched a gun over to Joe. Joe just dropped it. Dewey is an expert shot. He had been showing these people a quick draw."

Mrs. Hicks said Damron called her constantly even though she had told him not to do so. McCarthy asked her why she went out with Damron.

"Well, I just felt he was a friend in a way," she answered.

Mrs. Hicks said she and her husband went out and drank "a couple of beers" after the Barnards left their home New Year's Eve.

Her story of the evening was substantially the same as that of her daughter.

She said she always kept sugared orange juice in the refrigerator for her diabetic husband. She said such a bottle was on hand that night and she later found the empty container on the kitchen table. Hicks apparently having consumed the contents.

Mrs. Hicks told of her husband's having left the Hicks home about 2:30 or 3 o'clock New Year's morning with a shot gun and rifle.

She said she called the Damron home to be notified by Mrs. Jack Sizemore that "Dewey Hicks just shot my brother and my father."

"I was just shocked," Mrs. Hicks declared.

Mrs. Hicks admitted that her association with Damron had caused a great deal of trouble in her home. She said her husband took to drink after 14 years abstinence as a result of that association.

On cross examination, Mrs. Hicks told of a visit she and her husband made to the Damron home at which time she met Joe Damron's mother and sister. She said Dewey wanted to talk to the mother about the situation.

Mrs. Hicks testified that on Dec. 15 of last year, Damron had breakfast with Dewey at the Hicks home. Mrs. Hicks was not present, she testified, having spent the night at a motel.

Mrs. Hicks told of having seen her husband take a shot of insulin about 2:15 o'clock the morning of the shooting. He left the house shirtless and wearing a sports jacket a short time later. He was armed, she said.

She said Damron had called just before her husband left the house.

HOWARD BOXWELL, Amarillo businessman; Boxwell said Hicks has been doing some work for him since the time of the shooting and has done a good job.

"Is he of sound mind today?" Boxwell was asked.

"I think so," he replied.

DR. GERALD B. JOHNSON, Amarillo physician; Dr. Johnson said he has treated Hicks for a diabetic condition since April of 1946 when the disease was discovered.

The gist of his testimony, which took most of Tuesday morning, was that insulin shock could cause amnesia and temporary insanity by lowering the blood sugar.

He said this was entirely possible in the Hicks case.

He said on occasions Hicks consulted him about having had business dealings that he did not remember.

He told of having seen Hicks in the emergency room at Northwest Texas Hospital in February in a state of insulin shock. He said he recovered in 2 minutes after being administered glucose. Hicks had been brought in to the hospital from city jail.

On cross examination Hull hit hard on the amnesia facet of the physician's testimony.

Several Amarillo officers testified of having seen the defendant drunk on occasion. There was testimony about Hicks' stay in Amarillo jail in February.

FRANK GILLEY, Randall County deputy sheriff; Gilley testified on direct examination by Hull that he observed Hicks through a window at the Hicks home during the time Deputy Bailey was there with the defendant following the shooting. He said he noticed nothing abnormal at the time.

He said that later upon approaching Hicks he smelled alcohol. He said that later at the police station Hicks made a statement and exhibited a clear memory of past events.

On cross examination Gilley declared that Hicks was coherent at the time he met him at the door of the Hicks home and also at Amarillo jail.

L. S. "SLIM" JOHNSTON, Randall County sheriff; Johnston said he noticed nothing abnormal about Hicks when he took a statement from the defendant about 4:30 o'clock the morning of the shooting. "He was a little nervous but he appeared normal," the sheriff declared.

On cross examination by McCarthy Johnston said he saw no indication of intoxication.

SGT. JAMES ROACH, Amarillo policeman; Answered the call to the shooting scene. He said he saw the defendant later at the city police station and he appeared to be intoxicated.

On cross examination he said he was 12 feet away from Hicks and based his opinion on what he heard.

R. A. LEE, Amarillo electrician; Lee testified that he saw the younger Damron and Mrs. Gilley together on two occasions.

He said he saw them together the first time about December 10 of last year at the Snug Harbor Lounge and the second time in a cafeteria. He said no one else was with them either time.

(Mrs. Gilley had testified earlier that she had never dated Damron.)

On cross examination by McCarthy he said he was aware that Mrs. Gilley was 8 months pregnant at the times mentioned.

REF. COLE: Amarillo police lieutenant; said he was at the Hicks home following the shooting. He said Hicks put his arm around Cole's shoulder. Cole said he smelled alcohol and that in his opinion Hicks was intoxicated.

MRS. J. R. DAMRON, wife and mother of the two slain men; Mrs. Damron said she went to a watch night service at her church the night of New Year's Eve and was there until after midnight. The church is a block and a half from her home and she estimated that she arrived home at about 12:15.

She said she found her son, Joe, asleep in the living room on a divan. Damron was injured in a parachute jump in Austria during World War II and frequently slept on the divan or on the floor when his back was giving him trouble, she said.

She said the television set was on rather loud. She went upstairs to go to bed.

Her husband was in bed but told her to turn on the light as he was not asleep. She said they visited several minutes and then she went down stairs, turned the television set off and put some cover over her sleeping son. Joe was still on the divan. She returned to bed and went to sleep.

She was awakened by voices and went down stairs. Someone was talking on the phone. She could hear but couldn't understand what was being said. She said her son told her about the phone call. She said this was the only time she heard Joe on the phone and she didn't know how long.

Shortly thereafter the shooting occurred.

She testified that earlier Joe had made a phone call to Calveston and talked 10 minutes. She said the charges for this call appeared on the phone bill.

Mrs. Damron was the final witness in the hearing.

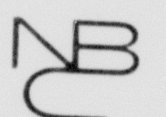

Others testifying briefly were Amarillo police sergeant S. L. Jeffers, Dorothy Meehan and Miss Grace Moore, Billy G. Hagee, Potter County deputy; Lyle Baldwin, Amarillo detective; Richard Parks Seales, Amarillo jailer; Roy L. Van Winkle, Amarillo jail cook; Kathleen Weber, Amarillo police nurse; and Dino Hello, Amarillo detective; also gave testimony.

by Troy Martin FROM THE CANYON RIM

We heard one of the most able summations before a jury Tuesday afternoon that we have heard in the years we have been covering the courts.

We have heard summations by famed E. T. "Dusty" Miller, who could identify with a jury of laborers or a jury of millionaires. He could make them feel that he was one of them and across the banister separating the jury from the well of the court room he could project his personality and weave a magic spell.

Colonel Simpson, the barrister from Amarillo, had a flair for the dramatic as we remember his jury addresses. He was indeed an able counsellor.

George McCarthy now probably wears the mantle of leadership among those who practice criminal law in the Panhandle-South Plains area.

Truett Hull, Randall County's freshman district attorney, less than two years out of law school, made one of the most eloquent summations we have ever heard Tuesday afternoon.

It was obvious that the district attorney had done his homework. He had diligently studied diabetes, diabetic coma, insulin, insulin shock, their causes, symptoms and effects.

Medical phrases rolled out as he spoke and were translated into simple Anglo-Saxon words that explained them to the layman. The district attorney's voice never rose a single time during the half-hour summation. It was resonant and pleasing to the ear. The eyes of the jury were riveted on the district attorney from the time he spoke the first sentence to the time he said, "Thank you gentlemen for your attention."

This was Hull's first important summation. In George McCarthy he faced an attorney worthy of any lawyer's steel.

We have never congratulated any man on a victory which might involve the loss of liberty or life of another, however, we simply could not let Truett Hull's brilliant and mature performance pass unnoticed.

Hilltop Views

Let it be said to start with that I am not a one-worlder in the sense that would supplant national sovereignties with one consolidated world-power. I cannot remember in all my 85 years, a day or a moment when I would not gladly have given my life if thereby I could have saved my country either from its own weaknesses or the aggression of another. There is no cause holier than that of the sovereign power of the individual and his personal responsibility to God and country. This truth is at the base of all that is good in the American system,--indeed, in civilization itself.

On the other hand, I am a one-worlder in the sense that men and nations the earth around, regardless of race, religion, nationality, language, social or economic status, or anything else must learn to live together in peace. The only alternative is death, hell, and utter destruction. To me, that is as plain as that I am alive as I write this.

But, the critic asks, how can we learn to live together in peace when the whole experience of men and nations is grounded in war? Such peace as history records, for the most part, has been that which kings, emperors, and the like have imposed by sheer physical power--by superior implements of war. And the tragedy of it is that the world today is still governed by that concept.

In the opinion of this column there will be no enduring peace until the masses of people in the most civilized areas of the world shall adopt a new concept of world relationships. As pointed out by Hubert Herring in the March issue of the Rotarian "Our human fate hangs upon understanding. If the 3 billion people who inhabit the earth can learn to live together in peace, we shall prosper. If we cannot resolve our differences, the human family is damned."

Mr. Herring then admits--indeed asserts--that the obvious facts in the present day international scene seem to indicate that world-wide understanding is impossible. Few of us would deny that the prospect is tragically dark. But the Prince of Peace taught us to walk by faith, not by sight. In another place Holy Writ tells us that "without vision the people perish." Moreover, nothing is impossible with God; and let us not forget that God still is.

These, of course, are concepts of the Christian faith; and the basic ideology of human freedom, the sovereign rights of the individual and the doctrine of the equality of man are found in the same place.

During and immediately following World War II civilized people of all nations, races, religions, languages, and colors had a dream of world peace, just as other people of vision had had before. Their feelings and their fervent prayers were dramatically portrayed in the following verse by Don Blanding, the Vagabond poet who faced death and Hell through two World Wars.

"What did you pray, Soldier? What did you pray at War?
"I prayed that we might do the thing we have not done before;
That we might mobilize for peace--nor mobilize in vain.
Lest Christ and man be forced to climb stark Calvary again."

It was this dream of civilized men that brought the now much denounced United Nations into existence. Thank God, my country was a leader in bringing about this instrument of peace through understanding. It is rightly subject to criticism for its mistakes and its failures, but it is also entitled to credit for its humanitarian service in most all parts of the world and for providing a platform for airing conflicting philosophies and points of view. If it shall become necessary that we forsake it either chaos will reign or dictators will rise up to rule all mankind.

Dr. Strain Will Speak For Spring Convocation

Dr. Dudley Strain, minister of the First Christian Church of Lubbock, will be speaker for the spring convocation May 26, when more than 400 candidates are expected to receive degrees at West Texas State College.

The convocation is scheduled at 5 p.m. in the field house. Activities for candidates begin May 23 with the annual senior awards assembly at 9:30 a.m. in the Administration Building auditorium. President and Mrs. James P. Cornette will entertain candidates and their families at a reception from 8 until 10 p.m. May 25.

Formal recognition of the change of WT's name from "college" to "university" will be made at the assembly May 23, when the senior class traditionally hands down class privileges to the junior class.

Dr. Strain has been minister of the Lubbock church since 1953, going to Lubbock after serving the First Christian Church in Salem, Oregon, for 12 years.

After completing undergraduate work at Butler University, Dr. Strain earned the B.D. and master's degrees from Yale University. He was given an honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity by Texas Christian University in 1958. He has regularly done summer work at Union Theological Seminary in New York.

Dr. Strain will be one of four major speakers at the International Convention of Christian Churches in Miami, Fla. in October. He will represent his church during the summer in the Japan Evangelism Project.

Dr. Strain has served as president of the Texas Convention of Christian Churches, the Texas Board of Christian Churches, and chairman of the Commission on Coordination and Unification. He is a member of the 130-member Commission on Brotherhood Restructuring of the International Convention of Christian Churches.

He is a member of the board of directors for the YMCA, Family Service Association, Salvation Army, Lubbock Museum Association, and the Methodist Hospital. He is a member of the Lions Club, United Fund, Governor's Committee Commission on Alcohol, Medical Service Facilities Committee and the Community Planning Council.

Mrs. Crow Is Honored With Party

The management and employees of the Canyon office of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company gave a luncheon celebration for Mrs. Amanda Eugene Crow, the service representative of the Canyon office to commemorate her 20 years of service with the company.

She started work for Southwestern Bell in 1943 when the Canyon office was located on the corner of 5th Avenue and 16th Street.

She says in those days the phones were operated by the old manual control system. Canyon transferred to the modern dial system in 1953, she said.

She worked as a telephone operator with the company until she was transferred to the commercial department in Amarillo. She was made service representative for the Canyon office in 1960.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Ford were their sons, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ford, Jr. and daughter, Melinda, from Hart, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Ford and two daughters from Amarillo Air Force Base.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Frank and children visited with Mr. and Mrs. Leo Zimmerer in Amarillo recently.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Franklin recently were M. C. Sluder and his daughter, Mrs. S. B. Harvey of Happy.

INTRODUCING

DELBERT "SI" ROGERS

Canyon Body Shop introduces another of its employees in the person of Delbert "Si" Rogers.

Delbert, his wife Glenda and their 4 year old son Ricky DeWayne reside at 1203 Eighth Ave. here in Canyon.

"Si", as he is known to most of us, has been employed at Canyon Body Shop for about three years. The official title attached to "Si" is that of spot painter. However, it entails much more than the title indicates. It is the skillful eye of "Si" Rogers that checks every paint job after completion to be sure everything is as it should be.

This is referred to as "detail" paint work. If there is a spot on the auto that doesn't measure up to the high quality required, it is his job to see that it is corrected.

It is this type of help that makes it possible for Canyon Body Shop to assure their customers the very finest in auto body work.

Why don't you see Bill Counsellor soon about those needed repairs on your car.

Royal Brantley was honored with a surprise reunion and celebration following Saturday night's performance of "The Music Man." This is the tenth production which has been presented by the workshop at West Texas State College.

Brantley Is Honored For Tenth Music Production

"This is your life--Royal Brantley" was the review given in honor of the tenth musical production, "The Music Man," which is being presented this spring at West Texas State University.

About 100 ex-students who had participated in the first 9 musicals joined the cast of "The Music Man" following the performance last Saturday night for a surprise reunion and celebration. The Brantley Iron Theater was filled for the program by parents, faculty members and friends of the Brantley's.

W. A. Moore acted as master of ceremonies for the program which was arranged by Mrs. Brantley, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Fulton, members of the music department faculty, and various ex-students who have been in the opera workshop productions.

As the curtains opened for the program, Miss LaNelle Blanton and Gary Wyatt were seen on stage in kid costumes asking Mr. W. A. Moore what the production would be next year.

Mr. Moore portraying a fortune teller checked his crystal ball which exploded with thunder and lightning and the crystal ball began showing the past years.

Miss Blanton revealed a boy learning to play the guitar by a haystack on a south Texas farm. Mr. Wyatt portrayed the piano lessons which were taught by his mother.

The crystal ball then showed "This Is Your Life--Royal Brantley" with a sub-title, "Life on the Wicked BIT Stage."

Royal Brantley and his wife and children were escorted to reserved seats in the front row for the program. The Charles Rugel family was also escorted to the reserved area. The Rugels have been to nearly all of the ten musicals and at times have traveled some 5,000 miles to attend. A visit with the Brantley's and attendance at the musical productions have become a part of the Rugel's spring schedule.

The program began with Marion Forbau, who played Mrs. Anna in "The King and I," singing "Getting to Know You." She was assisted by Rob Barnard, John Brantley, Mike Mathis and George Cox who portrayed children in the original production. Wam Moore provided the musical accompaniment.

The audience joined in singing the chorus by standing and greeting those seated near them.

Musical numbers of the program were presented as though the pages of a giant scrapbook were being turned backward in time.

Mr. Moore read part of Dorothy Nordyke's review of "Shoebat," the '62 musical production while the curtains opened to show John Robert Wheelock in costume as Joe singing "Old Man River." He was accompanied by his sister, Mary Ann Wheelock.

A portion of Penny Cox's review of "Guys and Dolls" which appeared in the Canyon News was read as the curtains opened on Miss Adelaide in the Hat Box night club singing "Adelaide's Lament." Miss Adelaide was portrayed by Jenny Lynn Massad of Spearman who was accompanied by Stanley Potter.

"The King and I" was the first musical production presented in the new Fine Arts Building. "Something Wonderful" was sung by Debra McDonald Devenport who was accompanied by Mrs. H. R. Fulton.

A double feature was the last production presented in the Education Building auditorium. "Trial by Jury" and "The Medium" were the two features of the production.

Frank Frisbe presented a comedy routine called "The Most Learned Judge" from "Trial by Jury." Mrs. Houston Bright provided the music.

Marion Forbau presented a scene from "The Medium" where she portrayed the approaching insanity of Madam Flora. Wam Moore was the accompanist.

The 1958 show "Girl Crazy" was reviewed by Thelma Fulton who played Kate in the original production. She sang "I've Got Rhythm" which was her big number in the musical. She was accompanied by Stanley Potter.

Betty Ann Dean Capwell and Fawayne Murphy presented a duet from the 1957 production which were "The Music Master," and "Bastien and Bastenna." Mrs. Houston Bright was the accompanist.

Another double feature was presented in 1956 with productions being "In A Garden" and "The Mighty Casey." Fawayne Murphy and Gene Murray presented "Strategy" taken from the productions and they were accompanied by Mrs. Houston Bright.

"Sunday Excursion" was presented as a curtain raiser in 1955 with "Gianni Schicchi" of Puccini being the main attraction. Peggy Williams Bain of Plainview who portrayed Lauretta in the production sang the Aria "On My Beloved Daddy" from "Gianni Schicchi." She was accompanied by Mrs. Houston Bright.

"Singing Billy" was the 1954 show but there was no one available to present a number from the show.

The program closed with Marian Forbau costumed as Mrs. Anna singing "Shall We Dance" from the production of the "King and I." Following the song she went into the audience and asked Royal Brantley to join her on stage where the two gave a finale with the polka which was a scene in the original production. Wam Moore was the accompanist.

Pictures and programs of past productions were displayed in the foyer of the Brantley Iron Theater. The display will be made into a scrapbook to be presented to Mr. Brantley at the Strike Party for "The Music Man" cast.

A picnic supper was held in the Little Brantley Iron Theater following the lobby display of pictures and ex-students messages. The supper was prepared by Bob Clark and the staff at West Texas State University cafeteria.

The evening closed in BIT tradition with the group singing "There's No Business Like Show Business."

During the decade that Royal Brantley has been head of the WT workshop it has had steady growth in the number of students participating, the work of the orchestra and choruses and audience attendance.

The workshop was established by Holmes Ambrose and was three years old when Royal Brantley took charge. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Moore have assisted as stage directors in all years, except 1955 when Mr. Moore was doing graduate work at Yale University. Dr. Cranell Tolliver did the stage direction that year for the production of "Singing Billy."

Mrs. Brantley, who teaches art in Canyon High School, has played in the orchestra for each of Mr. Brantley's ten shows. She has also helped design the program covers, paint scenery, design costumes and many other phases of the productions.

Each of the Brantley's children has appeared in at least one of the shows. Little Royal II was carried onstage when he was one year old as one of the King's children in "The King and I."

Royal Brantley received his BA degree in music from Southwest State Teachers College in San Marcos. He received his MA degree from the University of Texas. He was the first graduate to receive a Master's degree in applied voice from the University of Texas.

During World War II he served as a Bomber pilot. He taught at Tarleton State College before coming to West Texas State University. In recent years many students of Mr. Brantley have been directing musicals in area high schools.

Guardsmen Qualified At Range

More than 90 National Guardsmen of the Tulia and Canyon area qualified with the M-1 rifle and .45 pistol Sunday at the Canyon range.

Firing were the enlisted men and officers of Company C, First Brigade, 142nd Infantry, 36th Division. The company's headquarters is at Tulia and two platoons are stationed at Canyon.

Company Commander Pat Northcutt of Silverton said all the men did an excellent job at the range, located about a mile north of Canyon.

"It speaks well of each man when a whole company qualifies with assigned weapons," Lt. Northcutt said.

Firing on the pistol and rifle ranges began at 8 a.m. The exercise lasted until 5 p.m.

Lt. Northcutt said a 1,000-inch range is used in qualifying with the M-1 rifle.

Targets are scaled so that it is the same effect as firing at 200 yards," Lt. Northcutt explained.

He said the rifle is fired from the standing kneeling, and sitting and prone positions. There were 18 expert men in the company who qualified as expert riflemen.

The .45 pistol is fired on a 15 and 25 meter range.

Following the qualifying rounds, a machine gun and automatic rifle demonstration was given.

This was the first joint meeting of the Tulia and Canyon units.

The entire 36th Division has recently undergone reorganization and the two towns were joined in a single company.

Before that time Tulia and Plainview were parts of the same company and Canyon and Borger were united.

Lt. Northcutt became company commander on reorganization. He formerly met with the Canyon platoon. Northcutt now meets with the headquarters section at Tulia.

"Slave" Elo Myers looks downhearted as he is lead away from the auction block by Janet Gerald, FFA Chapter Sweetheart. The Slave Sale will be held on the court house square on Saturday morning, May 18, beginning at 7:30 a.m. by the FFA Chapter.

Contracts Approved By Board

Contracts totaling $57,306.19 have been approved by the Board of Regents of Texas State Teachers Colleges for the furnishing of West Texas State College's two new dormitories and dining hall.

The board also approved the addition of 1,014 arm chairs for the east side of the WT Stadium, at a cost of $15,189.72. The chair-back seats will be added on each side of the present seats, with 507 to be added equally in areas adjacent to the chair section.

Installation of a 30-station modern languages laboratory, expected to be ready by June 1, was also approved by the board. Equipment is to be installed in laboratory rooms remodeled in the area once occupied by the old Education Building auditorium.

Contracts awarded for furnishings for new Shirley and Jarrett halls, expected to be completed this summer, went to four successful bidders. They include Contract Furniture, Inc., of Amarillo, $8,054.32; Abel Stationery Company of Austin, $16,000.47; Taylor Bedding Manufacturing Company of Temple, $21,110.40; and American Desk Manufacturing Company of Temple, $12,141.00.

exhibits of scouting skills and competitions.

The scouts gathered in the city park before 8 a.m. and set up their exhibits including a pole tower with the American flag and Canyon Scout flag flying from its top. Other exhibits included a rope bridge, a tent city, flag signaling and exhibits of scout skills such as fire making by flint and steel and by the use of friction.

The scout competitions were set up on a point basis for each skill. In the knot tying competitions, scouts drew knots to tie at random from a hat with each scout tying a particular knot until all the knots on the list had been tied. Included in the knots were the binder-twine bend, the blood knot, sheet bend, clinch knot, fisherman's bend, the bowline, the clove hitch, timber hitch, half hitch, square knot and two half hitches.

Scouts were given a maximum of 60 points for tying all the knots correctly with a time limit of 8 minutes for each knot. Four points were taken from their score for each incorrectly tied knot.

Two scouts were chosen from each patrol to compete in the bait casting event. Casting was done at 30, 40, 50 and 60 feet with two casts at each target hoop. Scouts were charged one point off for each foot missed up to 10 points. They were allowed one backlash at each distance with the second costing a full ten points.

The use of flint and steel to make fire was one of the most interesting exhibits. Scouts used a 2 X 4 X 12 inch piece of wood with five minutes allowed for laying a fire. The Members of a three-piece band called "The Embers" were Jimmy Newton, Jean Hefner and Mike Campbell.

Sharon Bell presented a pantomime on the program.

A musical number was sung by a trio named "The Emeralds." Members of the group were Sandra Boggs, Jean Ann Oglesby, and Mary Ethel Wilson.

"The Sultons," a three-piece band group, presented the final number of the program. Billy Cawthon, Jody Sheets, and Ronnie Sweet were members of the band.

Mr. and Mrs. Hampton Lisle and son, Larry, were in Searcy, Arkansas, recently to visit the campus of Harding College.

did the best on the problem. In the tent pitching and tent peg making contests, the patrols were lined up in front of their collapsed tents with the axes and tent peg materials ready.

At the proper signal, each patrol ran to its tent location with each boy making at least one stake and properly setting up the tent, finishing by arranging their tools in the tent in a neat manner and standing at attention in front of the tent.

Safety was counted with the judging done on the quality and uniformity of the stakes, the lining up of the stakes toward the tent with the tent walls down and the lines taut and the up-rights straight. A full 60 points were awarded for those tents that were put up within 10 minutes.

Other events were the height judging and military drill competitions.

Patrol cooking was judged at breakfast with meals consisting of a hot drink, bacon, eggs, and bread with jelly and pancakes.

The judging was based on cleanliness, organization, team effort and the quality of the fire.

Patrol attendance earned 60 points, minus 20 points for each absent boy.

Camping skills were judged on the basis of the way the patrols set up their tents, the condition of their equipment and the general quality of their camping area.

McClure To Speak At Meeting

Boone McClure, curator of the Panhandle Plains Museum in Canyon, will be the featured speaker Friday night at the 42nd annual meeting of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society on the West Texas University campus.

McClure will speak to the society on The Museum after an introduction by toastmaster Jack Taylor who is president of the society. The occasion will be the annual society dinner to be held at 7 p.m. Friday night in the school cafeteria.

Other speakers on the program include Senator Grady Haylewood and a special invocation before the society by Dr. James P. Cornette, president of the university.

The Panhandle Plains Museum, of which McClure is curator, has recently enjoyed an increase in visitation, having opened its doors to hundreds of thousands of visitors in recent years.

Exhibit Opens Friday In Hall Of Fine Arts

The one-woman sculptry exhibit of Miss Waldine Tauch will open its doors Friday morning in the Hall of Fine Arts of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society meeting.

Consisting of 55 separate pieces of her work, the exhibit is the first such show to be placed in the museum or in Canyon.

A reception for Miss Tauch will be given Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. in the Hall of Fine Arts honoring her and her work. Miss Tauch is considered the best Southwestern sculptress of Southwestern subjects and one of the top sculptresses in the world. Specializing in large works of bronze, she and her teacher, Pompeo Coppini have done some of the nation's most outstanding works on such subjects as liberty, justice and the spirit of the Southwest.

Their statues stand in bronze at Love Field, Dallas, in front of the University of Texas campus at Littlefield fountain and at the university library at Baylor University.

Miss Tauch came to Canyon Saturday from her home in San Antonio to aid in the setting up of her sculptry. Special stands and back drops have been constructed at the museum to accommodate the works.

Many of the works on exhibit at the show will be of interest to Panhandle Citizens, especially the recent one of the Modern Texas Ranger. The original plaster model of this eight foot statue has been donated to the museum by Miss Tauch along with the original plaster model of Pippa Passes, a character from one of Robert Browning's poems by the same name.

Other works of interest are the original plaster models for the famous Texas Centennial silver dollar done by Coppini as his contribution to the Texas Centennial celebration in 1936.

Boone McClure said he has been trying to get the Tauch exhibit to Canyon for more than two years but couldn't because Miss Tauch has had too much work to do to work with collecting and setting the exhibit up.

Miss Tauch said she finally found the time to work on the exhibit and is glad to do it because it provides a chance for the people of Canyon to see what sculpture is really like.

Speaking of the Panhandle Plains Museum, Miss Tauch said, "I think the museum is the best in the whole Southwest and I think Boone McClure is the most dedicated museum director I've ever seen."

Miss Tauch also said she is looking forward to the day when she can sculpt the subjects and people of the Panhandle. "They are a breed of their own," she said.

WT Publications Sweep Intercollegiate Honors

When the West Texas State University student publications won first places in the top division of competition of the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association recently, a rare accomplishment was achieved.

The Prairie, weekly newspaper, and Le Mirage, WT's yearbook, were judged best among entries from ten of the state's colleges competing in TIPA's annual contests. Nine other colleges competed in a lower division.

Last time a college staff garnered both awards was in 1950, when North Texas State's yearbook and newspaper won both top places.

WT journalists also took two first places and three second places in individual competition. Bill Clough of Amarillo won a first in picture story photography, and John Pagan of McLean took first in news feature photography and second in sports photography.

Lynda Wilhelm, Queen of Pampa, editor of The Prairie for the fall semester, garnered a second place in editorials, and Henry Werner, Galveston senior, was awarded second in one-act play writing.

Editor of the prize-winning 1962 Le Mirage was the former Velma Arnold of Amarillo. Lewis Waggoner of Perryton is spring semester editor of The Prairie.

Judge for the newspaper division was Carl E. Lindstrom, executive editor of the Hartford Times. His comment on The Prairie on selecting it first, was "because of its pre-vaillingly tidy appearance, news judgement and distinction in photography, cut making and picture handling."

Twelve judges, headed by Clifton C. Edom, director of photojournalism at the University of Missouri, wrote "the unanimous choice for first place in Division I was Le Mirage. We were impressed with the cover, layout and general overall quality."

Prairie Wildlife

by Jim Thomas

Rotenone is an ugly word, especially when its use and capabilities are misunderstood. Rotenone is the trade name for a chemical used by the game and fish commission to treat fresh water lakes toward the eradication of undesirable fish.

The word is ugly because it is thought of in the same context as a poison though it really is not.

Its use is often misunderstood because it is sometimes difficult to understand how the fishing can be improved by killing off the fish in a lake.

A case in example is Lake Pauline near Quanah which was treated last Thursday by the game boys from the fish lab in Canyon.

More than 5000 persons attended the fish kill, some to see what was going on and others to pick up the dying fish.

Using their new piscicide which spreads the rotenone across the lake as well as their old one, the game boys covered the 600 acre lake in less than five hours after they ironed some bugs out of the two rotenomers.

Literally tons of rough fish and a few game species came to the surface soon after the introduction of the chemical into the waters of the lake.

The results of the control were not so dramatic as they were effective. The crowds around the shore and in the boats on the lake had waited since dawn to see the fish come to the surface in great masses.

Instead the fish rose to the surface as they were affected and then soon sank to the bottom resulting in the appearance of only a few fish on the surface at any one time. Final surveys and a net count will be done later in the week to determine just how effective the rotenone job was.

Lennie Peters, project leader for the game boys, said Saturday that the results looked pretty good but he is reserving judgement until he has more information.

HUNTING, FISHING AND CONSERVATION

He says it is near impossible to get a 100 percent kill of the fish in a lake using even the strongest of toxicants, which Rotenone is not.

He added that a 95 percent or even a 98 percent kill would be quite satisfactory at Pauline.

The big problem there was the carp suckers which had attained a size of several pounds. Peters was out to get those fish. And he did.

He said the rotenone job brought several large yellow catfish to the surface, some weighing 25, 35 and one weighing 50 pounds. That is a lot of catfish anywhere.

These fish were planted in Lake Pauline about six years ago by Charley Boynton, then the game warden at Quanah. At the time the fish were about 3 pounds. Peters said he doesn't think the catfish reproduced but evidently they did a lot of growing in just six years. Wouldn't that make a catch?

Bas fry and minnows will be restocked in Lake Pauline in about three weeks, according to Peters. They should get to about 2 pounds in two or three years. Peters said he expects the lake to be reopened for fishing about Fall of 1964.

The crappie are still biting out at Buffalo Lake, according to the reports we've been getting. We welcome any pictures you sportsmen might have taken of your trips, whether to Buffalo Lake or down the way to Falcon or even Oklahoma. Let's see them.

We want to remind everyone going out to Buffalo to take extra care with their boats, especially when the water gets thick with other water sportsmen.

All across the country the injury (and the death) rates from boating accidents have taken a sharp upturn for the worse. The next one could be you—or the kid you let drive the family Super Swoosh with that 70 horsepower motor while you eat your lunch under the shade tree.

It wasn't too bad when the family boat was a 12 or 14 footer with an equal amount of horse power. Not too many of these boats had the speed and weight to do a whole lot of damage.

But when the weight goes over 400 pounds and the horsepower over 25, the potential for serious trouble is at hand. Parents should drive their boats—and see that the children do likewise, with the same caution they would use in driving the family car.

Our society doesn't allow speeding, drinking, carelessness or poor safety habits while driving a car on the public highways. Why should we allow drinking, speeding, carelessness and poor safety habits while driving a boat on a public body of water?

You can be just as dead after a boating accident as after a car wreck. Have fun—but play with care.

Band Leaders Like Canyon

Canyon High School was rated as one of the top schools in the Panhandle for holding band conferences and meets by officials and participants of the recent Region 2 High School Band Contests held at the high school, according to J. E. Miller, principle.

Band contest visitors and students from all of Region 2 complimented the buildings on their design and appearance, saying they looked like new, he said.

He added that the band directors were especially pleased with the layout of the music rooms at the high school, saying they were ideally arranged for the holding of band contests.

Mr. and Mrs. Clevy Hancock and family of Hobbs, New Mexico, visited with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hancock, recently.

Dog Bites Bob Jolly

Bob Jolly, 205 Twentieth, was bitten by a dog in the yard at his home a week ago Sunday. Veterinarian Joe Markham at first thought there might be a chance that the dog was rabid. However, after a few days of observing the animal he was convinced that this was not the case.

Jolly said he was bitten on the hand. Physicians immediately began administering a series of rabies shots. These were discontinued.

Ed Grabber visited recently with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grabber. The Grabbers drove their son back to St. Benedict's College in Atchison, Kansas last week.

They visited with a daughter, Sister M. Aloysius O.S.B., at Fort Smith, Arkansas, enroute home.

TORNADO Safety Rules

TO KNOW WHAT TO DO WHEN A TORNADO IS APPROACHING MAY MEAN THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN LIFE AND DEATH!

I If you are near a tornado cellar:

When time permits, go to a tornado cellar, cave or underground excavation which should have an air outlet to help equalize the air pressure. It should be kept fit for use, free from water, gas or debris; and preferably equipped with pick and shovel. THERE IS NO UNIVERSAL PROTECTION AGAINST TORNADOES EXCEPT UNDERGROUND EXCAVATIONS.

II If you are in open country:

1. Move at right angles to the tornado's path. Tornadoes usually move ahead at about 25 to 40 miles per hour.
2. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression such as a ditch or ravine.

III If in a city or town.

1. Seek inside shelter, preferably in a strongly reinforced building. STAY AWAY FROM WINDOWS!
2. In homes: The corner of the basement toward the tornado usually offers greatest safety, particularly in frame houses. People in houses without basements can sometimes be protected by taking cover under heavy furniture against inside walls. Doors and windows on the sides of the house away from the tornado may be opened to help reduce damage to the building.
3. Standing against the inside wall on a lower floor of an office building offers some protection.

IV If in schools:

1. In city areas: If school building is of strongly reinforced construction, stay inside, away from windows, remain near an inside wall on the lower floors when possible. AVOID AUDITORIUMS AND GYMNASIUMS with large, poorly-supported roofs!
2. In rural schools that do not have strongly reinforced construction, remove children and teachers to a ravine or ditch if storm shelter is not available.

V If in factories and industrial plants:

On receiving a tornado warning, a lookout should be posted to keep safety officials advised of the tornado's approach. Advance preparation should be made for moving workers to sections of the plant offering the greatest protection.

VI

Keep calm. It will not help to get excited. People have been killed by running out into streets and by turning back into the path of a tornado. Even though a warning is issued, chances of a tornado striking one's home or location are very slight. Tornadoes cover such a small zone, as a rule, that relatively only a few places in a warned area are directly affected. You should know about tornadoes though, "just in case."

VII

Keep tuned to your radio or television station for latest tornado advisory information. Do not call the Weather Bureau, except to report a tornado, as your individual request may tie up telephone lines urgently needed to receive special reports or to relay advisories to radio and television stations for dissemination to thousands in the critical area.

Buff Guards Look Good Says Coach Willingham

BY MIKE MOON

With only the loss of Stu Johnson from the 1962 West Texas State football team guard position, Coach Billy Willingham says, "It looks good. We can probably have three teams that are capable of winning football against a tough schedule."

Willingham, who coaches the guards, continued, "With the addition of the freshman team members and junior college transfers, the group should be stronger than last year."

Following are the team's guards, their statistics and quotes from Willingham:

GENE BALDWIN: Baldwin is 6-2 and weighs 210 pounds. He is a Hereford junior (next season), he played for the freshman squad and lettered as a sophomore. He played on the alternate unit last season.

MARTY BROWN: A junior college transfer from San Diego, Brown is 6-0 and 205. He shifted from end to guard during spring training. He is willing to learn but needs more experience. He will be a junior next season.

JIM DENNY: Denny is a two-year letterman from Borger. He is the smallest guard candidate at 5-8 and 180 pounds. He lettered by playing on the alternate squads the past two years and will be a senior next season. He is expected to be a starter this next season and is tabbed as one of the quickest linemen around and possesses the skills a guard must have.

TERRY FLUNK: Following the tradition of Dory Funk Sr. and Jr., who were former tackles for the Buffs, Terry is a sophomore guard and stands six feet tall and weighs 195. He played one year of ball at Cisco Junior College of Cisco. He shows as much desire as anybody on the squad. He is also considered by the coaching staff to be a real hustler and one day should make a fine guard.

WALLY JOHNSON: Up from the freshman team, Johnson hails from San Angelo High School where he received good training and should become a fine guard when he improves his speed. He is 5-9 and weighs a stocky 195.

VERNON KOSUB: Kosub was switched from the backfield to guard as a freshman after playing at San Antonio. The 6-0, 205 pound lineman possesses wonderful desire and should make a good guard despite the fact that many of the guard movements are still unfamiliar to him.

JACK MAYFIELD: Mayfield, along with halfback Jerry Richardson, are among some of the only Buffalo grid players who have had a chance to win four letters of varsity football for WT. Mayfield will play as a senior next season and has already earned three varsity letters. He is 6-1, 225, and hails from Odessa, Texas, where he played with Hoot Gibson. Mayfield started his last two years and played in one of the top units in his freshman year. He is big and quick and should start next season. He is considered by many quarters to be a professional football player prospect and by the coaches to be one of the top linemen of the team.

JAMES POPE: After playing for Amarillo Palo Duro High School, Pope turned in a season of freshman ball and will be a sophomore next season. He is 5-9, 200, and a lot is expected from him at West Texas. He has the necessary quickness, savvy, speed, and strength to make an outstanding guard.

DAVID SIMS: Another sophomore-to-be is Sims who is 5-10 and 195. He played his prep ball at San Antonio before playing on the frosh squad last season. David was with the varsity last fall and picked up valuable experience. He has a wonderful attitude and a desire to play. Sims should be able to play some football next season.

WILLIE THOMPSON: Willie has lettered once but has been bothered constantly with an injured leg. He is 5-10, 200 and hails from Reidling, Penn. He will be a junior next fall and is tabbed as one of our better guards for two years. Nobody has shown more desire to excel. Willie had the benefit of excellent coaching in high school, therefore his background is extremely good. Willie should be able to play on one of the top two ball clubs next season.

BILL WEAVER: Weaver's career depends on how he responds to a recent operation as he was injured during the middle of spring training and didn't get to participate after that. He is 5-10 and 195. He is from Snyder, played freshman ball last year and will be a sophomore next season.

WT, Eastern To Meet At Clovis

A return match has been scheduled between the West Texas State bowling team and Eastern New Mexico. The match will be held at the halfway city of Clovis, N. M.; both the boys and girls teams will compete.

The first match was held at the Canyon Bowl and was won by the WT keglers, the girls did not bowl. The boys won by nine pins by virtue of Norman Tuck's double in the last frame of the third game.

Still in progress at the Canyon Bowl is the Scotch Ragtime Doubles bowling tournament which is sponsored by the West Texas bowling team to cover traveling expenses. The meet will continue until May 19.

In the Scotch doubles competition, a boy and girl pair off in a doubles team and one rolls the first ball of a frame and the other partner rolls the second ball unless the first one is a strike. The highest reported series to date is a 540 for the three-game competition.

Cage Booster Club To Start

Everyone interested in organizing and participating in a Basketball Boosters Club should call Mrs. Greiner for tickets to a luncheon at the 700 Club Friday at 12 noon. The 700 Club is located at 700 10th Ave. in Amarillo.

Mrs. Mary Greiner can be reached at college extension 304 and should be contacted by Thursday noon.

Recently appointed new head coach of the West Texas State Buffalo basketball team, Jimmy Viramontes will be the speaker. His topics will deal with the basketball program as a whole, and will serve to bring the public up to date on recruiting. Viramontes will also speak on future scheduling and future prospects.

WT Journeys To Denver Meet

West Texas State's trackmen swing into action against some of the middle west's top track powers in the annual Denver Invitational at Denver this weekend.

The Buff cindermen have placed fourth in the McMurry Invitational and third in the New Mexico Western quadrangular. The Denver meet will feature the Colorado University Buffaloes as the top competition. Other teams are the University of Denver, Colorado State, Wyoming, Idaho State, the Air Force Academy, and WT.

A run-off between Bill Bundy and Bob Sandlin will decide who travels with the team to Denver to compete in the discus event. James Pope and Wilton Manly will compete in the shot put; Dennis Flanagan in the 440 and mile relays and the broad jump; Jackie Burns in the 330 intermediate hurdles and the broad jump.

David McInturff will run the high hurdles, and the two relays, and the broad jump; Earl West will run the intermediate

Gridders Sign Next Season

One of the fine schoolboy quarterbacks from the Central Texas area, David Zimmerhazel from Smithville, has accepted a football scholarship to West Texas State.

He is a boy who likes to throw the ball and can," says head coach Joe Kerbel of the Buffaloes. Kerbel added that he is also a fine defensive back.

Zimmerhazel is six feet tall and weighs 175 pounds. Also planning to enroll at West Texas in September are end Doug Kriewold and tackle Bobby Duncum of Austin's Travis High. Kriewold is 6-3, 215. Duncum is 6-3, weighs 240.

and high hurdles and possibly the 440 relay; Arnold Skiles will compete in both hurdles races; Joe Blocker will run the 220 and both relays; and Pete Pedro will compete in the 100 yard dash and the 440 yard relay.

Women's Intramurals

Char Marshall, Cactus junior, bowled a 487 high series to lead the Chi Omegas in victory over the Pogos, winning the women's bowling intramurals.

Before the playoff game with the Pogos, averages for the Chi O's were: Char Marshall, 144, Karen Beth Guerry, 135, Carretta Conner, 125, Marlene Johnson, 112, and Sandy Turner, 134.

Averages for the Pogos were: Janeice Wilbanks, 125, Jan Hager, 145, Paulette Sullivan, 120, Gloria Reynolds, 105, Sue Hines, 97, and Helen Jo Iverson, 138. Placing third in the tournament were the Alpha Delta Pi's, with six wins and six losses. Jan Hager of the A D Pi's had a high series of 467.

Bowling for the fourth place Delta Zetas were Carleen Harrison, Doan Lusk, Linda Allison, Nita Gaede, and Charlotte McElroy.

McInturff Point Leader After Buffs' 2 Meets

David McInturff is the current leader in total points scored for the two meets thus far in West Texas State's track program coached by Howard White.

McInturff, who usually competes in about four events each meet, has 16 points while second place Joe Blocker has garnered 10. Pete Pedro follows with 8 and three-fourths.

The scoring continues with Dennis Flanagan, 5; Jackie Burns, 5 and one-fourth; Arnold Skiles, 4; Earl West and Wilton Manley, 3; and James Pope, 2.

The best marks of the season for the Buff cindermen show Pedro with a 9.7 performance in the 100-yard dash. Joe Blocker has turned in a fine 21.7 time in the 220-yard dash in addition to a 50 seconds flat 440-yard dash effort.

The Buff squad doesn't have any distance men and therefore has no times posted in the 880, mile and two mile. McInturff ran the 120-yard high hurdles in the first meet of the season in 14.3 seconds for one of the better showings while Burns is improving all the while in the

Buffalo Cindermen Rate Third At Western Meet

Coach Howard White's 10 cindermen were barely edged out of third place with the scant margin of two points by New Mexico State in a quadrangular meet at New Mexico Western University last weekend.

The meet winner was Texas Western College who tripled second-place New Mexico State's point total 93-30. WT managed 28 points while New Mexico Western was fourth and last with 17 points.

Pete Pedro came close to winning the 100 yard dash against Texas Western's Zeak Williams. Williams won the New Mexico State high school sprint title last year at this time when he ran a 9.3 century at Albuquerque.

Pedro was up with Williams 10 yards from the finish of the race as was Tom Gossen of TWC. Pedro misjudged the finish by 10 yards and eased up, coasting the final 10 yards to the tape. He had to settle for third as Williams won with a 9.7 clocking with Pedro being timed in 9.8.

West Texas State's team of David McInturf, Joe Blocker, Dennis Flanagan, and Pedro ran a close second to Texas Western in the 440 yard relay with a time of 43 flat. TW clocked a 42.5. Blocker, Flanagan, Jackie Burns and McInturf ran as a foursome in the mile relay and again placed second to a TW Miner team. The Buffs time was a 3:23.5 whereas Texas Western did the oval four times in 3:19.

The 440-yard dash was probably the most thrilling and sure-ly the closest of the entire meet.

The event was won by Texas Western's Don Teagarden in 50 seconds flat. Texas Western's Smith and Whitson placed second and third in that order with WT's Blocker finishing fourth. All four were timed in 50 flat with mere inches separating them all.

The closest thing all season for a sweep for West Texas came in the 120 yard high hurdles in which the Buffs ran second, third, and fourth. The event was won, however by TWC's Blocker. Second was Earl West of WT, third was McInturf and Arnold Skiles placed fourth. West's time was a 14.8 McInturf 14.9 and Skiles 15.1.

Texas Western took the top two places in the shot put but West Texas managed third and fourth in the forms of James Pope and Wilton Manley. Pope tossed the shot 45-6 and Manly had a heave of 45-3 and one-half.

McInturf garnered a second place finish in the broad jump competition with a leap of 21-11 and one-half. In the 220 yard competition, Williams of TW won in 22.5 but Pedro took third and Blocker fourth. Both were timed in 2.9.

Burns made a big improvement in the 330 yard intermediate hurdles as he placed second in 40.3--almost two full seconds better than his previous time. Fourth in that event was Skiles who was barely beat out of third with a 40.5 timing.

From our historians we constantly are reminded of the part art has played in the development of the world. The ancient picture and sculpture forms have handed down information enabling our writers to put words together. This writing can then transfer the story of ancient culture to us.

As years roll by, art has become an even more vital and necessary part of our life. Our daily habits are reminded of the part art has played in the development of the world. The ancient picture and sculpture forms have handed down information enabling our writers to put words together. This writing can then transfer the story of ancient culture to us.

Some of these crates were marked with a water goblet. This was a "word" to all nationalities meaning "fragile" or "breakable." On another group of crates was a stamped umbrella opened wide. This was a form of art that gave the message in all languages and it meant keep this crate dry; these crates contained a chemical that must not be harmed by moisture. Here is only one indication how art may be used as a universal language throughout the world.

A large bundle of hides were lying on the dock for shipment and the man explaining the dock tour to the guests... remarked that hides were called "empty cows."

At any rate we can be glad of the small art signs we see most often, the road signs that tell the driver what to do and what not to do! The colored stop and go signs that hang at intersections are certainly a sign language understood by most! It is funny to think just how many things can be tied to that subject art. Is the red light at the top or the bottom?

For the next few weeks, there will be several art exhibits in the lounge of the WT Fine Arts Building.

A dinner party was held in the J. Roy Oglesby home recently with Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Stewart and families of Dawn attending.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Martin of Dalhart visited a few days recently with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lindell King.
